CONGRESS AT END OF WORK ON PRESENT SESSION

Final Adjournment Expected to Be Reached at 11 O'clock Tonight

ASKS MILLION TO STOP FLOODS IN CALIFORNIA

Campaign Contributions to Be Made Public Only After Election.

WASHINGTON, June 25.—The present session of Congress will come to a close at 11 o'clock tonight. At 3 p. m. the Senate concurred in the adjournment resolution adopted by the House during the hour named and then took a recess until 9 p. m.

Delay beyond the hour of 5 p. m. which had been expected to cause the close was caused by the passage of a number of measures late in the session and in the inability of the engrossing committee to keep pace with the business transacted. It is expected that President Taft will be at the capitol when the session comes to a close, and that he will sign a number of bills and exchange farewells with members in the room assigned to his use.

WASHINGTON, June 25.—President Taft sent a special message to Congress asking for the placing at his disposal of a considerable sum of money to meet the emergency of the situation on the Colorado river, which threatens the life and property in the Imperial Valley of California.

He also mentioned the amount needed to carry on the Colorado river project, and asked for a joint resolution appropriating $1,000,000 for that purpose.

TAFT'S MESSAGE

The President's message in full follows:

To the Senate and House of Representatives:

I am advised that the situation on the lower Colorado river is exceedingly serious and that unless quick relief can be had thousands of people and millions in land values will be jeopardized.

I suggest the prosecution of a joint resolution putting at my disposal a suitable sum to meet this emergency. This is the same locality in which a break occurred in 1905 and was remedied by Mr. Harriman's action on the request of my predecessor. It seems likely that immediate steps ought to be taken to prevent great destruction of life and property.

I suggest that the resolution authorize the expenditure of this money on either side of the international boundary and the President be authorized to secure the permission of the Republic of Mexico.

(Signed) WM. H. TAFT

Will Sign Bill

WASHINGTON, June 25.—The President signed the bill this afternoon.

WASHINGTON, June 25.—The conference report on the bill providing for a $5,000,000 issue of certificates of indebtedness was passed by the House.

I. H. CLAY PROMISES FAIR ASSESSMENT TO EVERYBODY

Candidate for Republican Nomination for Assessor Will Make an Active Campaign

Upon the earnest solicitation of many of the most prominent citizens of the county of Alameda, and after a careful survey of the conditions existing in the county, I have decided to become an aspirant for the Republican nomination for the office of County Assessor.

While for years I have taken a deep and active interest in all movements having for their object the advancement of the county both at home and abroad and while I have always discharged the duties of citizenship by casting my vote for those I thought most worthy of my suffrage, I have never been an extreme partisan. As president of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce it was my constant aim to advance our community not only at home but in the eyes of the whole world and I think I can say without fear of contradiction that every member of public improvement has ever had my most hearty and active support.

WOMAN'S BROTHER RELENTLESS

On the other hand, Captain Harry Harlan, Scott's brother, who adds that in seeing the murder of the innocent child, he was issued a May 1, 1910, decree as a precaution against a marriage between the young folks. If the document were left lying around, he says, it might be used to his disadvantage as long as he has got it, and he is now in a state of mind to do anything to get it back.

CHARGED WITH MURDER

Charlton stands formally charged with murder on complaint of Gustave di Rocco, the Italian consul here, and has been committed on the statement that he is wanted by the Italian government. The next move will depend on that government's further action and on the course of the federal authorities to whom the federal course of events Charlton would like to see.

Third Man Surrenders After Seeing Companions Laid Low by Bullets.

LYNN, Mass. June 25.—A double murder and the robbery of more than $6000 by three young Russian Poles on the principal business thoroughfare of Lynn today had its sequel within less than two hours, in the death of one of the bandits, the serious wounding of another and the arrest of the third. The victims of the murder were Thos. A. Landregan, a shoe manufacturer of this city, and Policemen James Carroll.

Thugs Identified

The name of the dead robber is Abba Anson of New York, according to his statement to the police. The name of the other wounded highwayman is not known, but the third man said he was 'Bill Kovensky of Boston. Inspector Morrissey of the Boston Police Department later said Kovensky was one of the Jamaica Plains outlaws who held that suburb of Boston in terror two years ago. Two persons were killed in the fight at Jamaica Plains.

CARRYING LARGE SUM

The three men were carrying a large sum of money when they were shot down. The money was found on the bodies of the dead men.

BANDITS SURROUNDED

In the meantime a crowd of about 100 persons gathered around the scene of the crime.

place of honor in the Family Medicine Chest.—Louis Inra, 422 East Nineteenth street, New York.

Ministers of the gospel, doctors of medicine, nurses and people everywhere unite in commending Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey, a perfect tonic stimulant, the one true medicinal whiskey.

DUFFY'S PURE MALT WHISKEY

is an absolutely pure distillation of mated grain, great care being used to have every kernel thoroughly malted, thus destroying the germ and producing a liquid food, tonic and stimulant, requiring no digestion, in the form of a medicinal whiskey. Its palatability and freedom from injurious substances render it so that it can be retained by the most sensitive stomach. Its gentle and invigorating properties influence for good every important organ in the body. It makes the old feel young and keeps the young strong and vigorous.

CAUTION.—When you ask your druggist, grocer or dealer for Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey be sure you get the genuine. It is an absolutely pure medicinal malt whiskey and is sold in sealed bottles only—never in bulk. Look for the trademark, the "Old Chieftain," on the label, and make sure the seal over the cork is broken. Price $1.00 per bottle. Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey Co., Rochester, N. Y., for doctor's advice and an illustrated medical book containing testimonials and rules for health, both sent free.

CANALEJAS TO FIGHT ROME

Premier Says He Will Retaliate if Threats of War Are Continued.

MADRID, June 25.—Premier Canalejas declared today that if the negotiations between the Spanish government and the Vatican over the revision of the concordat were broken off, Rome would be responsible. He said: "The full text of the Vatican's reply has not been received yet, but we know from the telegraphic summary that it does not constitute a response to our note, but is continued exclusively a protest against the imperial decision of June 12 and is, therefore, an invasion of the states' sovereignty, which is not tolerable."

FAIRLY ACCUSED. "The church falsely accuses us of an attack on the Catholic religion. We are simply defending the sovereignty of the state."

Premier Canalejas added, if the concordat were broken off, he would have recourse to the courts. A dubious element in the situation is the attitude of King Alfonso, on whose great influence is being exercised to cause him to overthrow the Canalejas ministry.

HELD TO PROMISES. At the same time the Premier is holding the monarch to a strict fulfillment of the promises which he says Alfonso made when the present cabinet took office.

Canalejas' religious reform policy has aroused the bitter antagonism of the Spanish Bishops and of Catholic societies throughout the country. At a recent meeting of the Catholic League it was announced that before the policies outlined were permitted to become law, Spain would undergo a serious crisis, as Catholics preferred civil war to the lay school system.

FURTHER PROGRAM. On the day the radical government assumed power Canalejas said he would further the program of religious freedom mapped out by the preceding ministry. This included a revision of the concordat and the compelling of unauthorized religious orders to seek authorization under the law adopted in 1887.

The establishments of some religious orders not complying with the terms of this law have been since closed by the government.

An Imperial decree of June 11 permitted non-Catholic religious edifices

SENATE PROBE TO GO DEEP IN INDIAN SCANDAL

Senate Adopts Resolutions Directing an Investigation of Coal Lands.

PROMOTERS HOPED TO GAIN $30,000,000

Senator Gore Declares Several "Dens of Wolves" Exist in His State.

WASHINGTON, June 25.—The Senate today adopted a resolution introduced by Mr. Gore directing an investigation into the sale of asphaltic coal lands. The inquiry is to be conducted by the Senate committee on Indian affairs and is to determine whether there is any necessity for the employment of special counsel or agents in connection with lands belonging to the Choctaw and Chickasaw tribes and if the employment of such counsel is necessary whether a fee of 10 per cent is reasonable.

Senator Gore's charges in connection with the land sale in Oklahoma are not confined to those made against G. F. McMurray, an Oklahoma lawyer.

MILLIONS IN SIGHT. When the Senator made his appearance in the Senate today he said in private conversation that another attorney had been making efforts to have about 10,000 acres enrolled, which he said would net the promoter $25,000,000 or $30,000,000 if permitted to be perfected.

"Oh," said the Senator, "there are several dens of wolves in that State. I hesitate to go into the matter as it ought to be done, but some one ought to do it."

He did not decide whether he would bring a new charge to the attention of the Senate. While the Senator was discussing the matter conferees of the two houses were engaged in discussing the Oklahoma Senator's amendment to the general deficiency appropriation bill. Soon after Senator Hale stated that the conferees had acceded to Mr. Gore's demand to insert a provision requiring that all contracts should be approved by Congress.

"We have made it even stronger than Mr. Gore requested," said Mr. Hale, "and have put in a requirement that all contracts with the Indians, whether past, present or future shall be inoperative until approved by Congress."

PROVISION STRONG. The provision agreed upon by the conferees reads as follows: "That no contract or contracts heretofore or hereafter made affecting the tribal money and property of the said Indian tribes shall be approved until further action by Congress."

Senator Gore said the provision was entirely satisfactory to him. Whether there will be an investigation by Congress of the allegations yesterday made by Senator Gore that an effort had been made to bribe him in connection with the claims of McMurray for the return of a few under contracts McMurray has with the Choctaw and Chickasaw nations, is a question much discussed in both branches of Congress today.

Senator Gore was asked whether he intended to follow up his allegations with formal charges against the members of the senate and house whom he suspected of having direct interest in the McMurray contracts.

SHIFTS RESPONSIBILITY. The Oklahoma Senator replied that he had presented the facts to the senate and that the responsibility for any proceedings rested upon the senate.

On the other hand congressional leaders seem to think that Mr. Gore should file a formal charge or bring in a resolution demanding an investigation. It was pointed out that the Oklahoma Senator had alleged that a present member of the senate and a present member of the house were interested in the McMurray claims, but that he had not made public the names of these men. He involved also a former senator from Nebraska and a former senator from Kansas as lobby agents for McMurray. The names of the men referred to by Mr. Gore were well known to his colleagues, but there is no suggestion that these men had performed services that would necessitate an investigation.

The general deficiency bill, including the amended provision designed to safeguard the Indians against excessive contracts was agreed to by both houses.

CALIFORNIAN DIES AT AGE OF 94

Oldest Native Succumbs After Long Life of Unusual Activity.

SAN JOSE, June 25.—Jose Dolores Narvaez, oldest native of California, and at one time one of the wealthiest men in the state, died early yesterday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. L. C. Narvaez, 14 years old and at one time resided in this valley. Death was due to senility.

As one of the founders of the settlement which later became the Pueblo de San Jose Narvaez accumulated a large fortune by trading merchandise for land and by the Indians in the early days, but practically all of his wealth was stolen by men who posed as his friends. He was the oldest living head of the famous Narvaez family.

He was born at Sycamore Grove, a small settlement a few miles south of San Jose. This city was hardly more than a village at the time. He lived to accumulate a fortune in land deals with the Indians. There were no banks in those days, and Narvaez buried his wealth. He kept the secret of his hiding place to himself until his eightieth year, when he was threatened with blindness. He had no map of his secret cache and he was forced to trust his friends to dig in the earth and rescue his gold, to be taken to the banks, which were about to be established. It was this way that he lost all his savings. He was active in the founding of San Jose and the history of the valley tells of his many deeds of valor. As the town became settled, Narvaez sought seclusion and went to live on one of his ranches, which he sold about twenty years ago. His largest single holding was the San Juan Bautista rancho.

Congress Makes Brilliant Record for Legislation

WASHINGTON, June 25.—Notwithstanding the fact that action on many important measures was delayed by conflicts between "insurgents" and "regulars," the republicans in both branches, and that the Democratic minority was an active force, Congress concluded its long session today with a record for legislation that is second to none in the history of the republic.

An act was passed to compel railroads to furnish to the Interstate Commerce Commission reports on accidents.

CONSERVATION OF LANDS. Under the withdrawal act the President was given almost unlimited power to withhold lands from public sale and to conserve water power. On the other hand, the act providing for the agricultural entry of the surface of coal lands will open to settlement at least 60,000 acres, but will reserve to the Government the right to the coal.

By providing for the opening of a portion of the Pine Ridge and the Rosebud Indian reservations in South Dakota, and the Fort Berthold reservation in North Dakota, more than 2,000,000 acres of agricultural lands will be available for homestead settlement. The sum of $150,000 is appropriated for the gauging of streams with a view to the preservation of the water supply.

MEASURES FAR-REACHING. These conservation measures are declared to be far-reaching. Under the new power conferred on the President, it is expected that there will be extensive land withdrawals, while the settlement of the coal lands will be made possible. The valuable deposits beneath the surface, is expected to do much to reconcile opponents of conservation who have contended against the dilution of lands by the preservation of natural resources for future generations.

The increase provided for the navy was notable. Two battleships of 27,000 tons each, armed with 14-inch guns, making a total of 28,000 tons, and four submarines, were authorized. The naval strength of the United States will be further supplemented by six torpedo boat destroyers, two colliers and four submarines, while an increase of the personnel of the navy of 3,000 men was authorized.

Greater safety of railroad employees and travelers will be obtained by the act to extend the use of safe appliances.

An appropriation of $300,000, to be used by the Attorney-General in enforcing the Sherman anti-trust law, was made.

RAISING OF THE MAINE. The sum of $300,000, with the suggestion that as much more as might be needed might be forthcoming, was appropriated for the raising of the wreck of the battleship Maine.

Further regulation of the immigration service was provided to improve the character of immigrants obtaining admission into this country. The act makes provision for the better protection of the Alaskan seal fisheries, for the promotion of the efficiency of the militia, for the parole of United States prisoners, whose conduct indicates that they would not abuse their liberty, for the franking of publications by the blind, for the establishment of the Glacier National Park in Montana, and for the creation of a commission of fine arts.

More time was consumed in considering the railroad bill than in any other subject of legislation. This measure not only

NEW RULE ADOPTED. The Speaker was removed from the committee on rules which had been created by the House, and a new rule was adopted to prevent the pigeon-holing of bills by committee when the House is in session.

THE CUMULATIVE DEMAND for legislation pressed upon Congress is shown by the fact that since the beginning of the present Congress 27,000 bills have been introduced in the House and 9,000 in the Senate, in addition to hundreds of resolutions.

THE RECORD, as far as the number of bills is concerned, is without parallel.

RAILROAD BILL. More time was consumed in considering the railroad bill than in any other subject of legislation. This measure not only edness to add reclamation projects was agreed to by the house today. It was agreed to by the senate yesterday.

CAMPAIGN PUBLICITY. WASHINGTON, June 25.—Sanitation contracts will be made public only after elections. The house today adopted the conference report on the campaign publicity bill, after a spirited debate, during which many members, especially Democrats, expressed their disapproval of the action of the house conferees in agreeing to the senate amendments.

WHITE SLAVE BILL PASSES. WASHINGTON, June 25.—The Mann "White Slave" bill, designed to prevent the shipment of women and girls from one state to another for immoral purposes, was passed by the senate today. It had previously passed the house.

SUNDAY BILL PASSES. WASHINGTON, June 25.—To senate day bill providing for the testing of structural steel, and this work will be done by the bureau of mines. The sundry civil bill report then was agreed to in both houses.

HOUSE YIELDS. WASHINGTON, June 25.—The house conferees today yielded on the question in dispute over the pensions appropriation bill and the conference report was agreed to by the house.

The house wanted to abolish all pension agencies except the one in Washington, but the senate would not agree. All the present agencies $150,000. The pensions building bill.

WASHINGTON, June 25.—President Taft this afternoon signed the Public Buildings bill, which authorizes the expenditure of $22,000,000, but does not actually appropriate the money. The appropriation will be left to the next Congress.

PRODUCE ENTERTAINMENT FOR THE SIXTH TIME. The Household of Ruth No. 458, composed of negro women, gave a light for the sixth time "The Japanese Wedding" at Magnolia hall, 1207 Seventh street. The play, which was a part of an extensive program which the over offered, gave evidence of long preparation and little dramatic ability. Those taking part in the play were Mrs. E. McClellan, Mrs. E. E. Wilson, Mrs. T. W. Turner, Mrs. A. Craig, Mrs. H. Bridge, Mrs. W. Goddard, Mrs. W. J. Jones, Mrs. G. Watkins, W. W. W. J. Whiters, bride and groom.

OAKLAND'S WATER SUPPLY WHOLESOME AND ABUNDANT

Evil Effect of Sending Abroad Statements That Our Water Is Polluted

Editor TRIBUNE: The attempt to introduce another water company into Oakland, Alameda and Berkeley, is made on lines that are immensely injurious to the present prosperity and growth of these cities. It is in the interest of every property owner and business man that the resulting false impression be corrected.

THE GREATEST INJURY that can afflict a city is to send abroad the statement that its water supply is unwholesome and dangerous to health. In this respect the Peoples Water Company suffers by its misstatement of the memory of past conditions.

WHEN WATER WAS BAD. All old residents of Oakland remember the long periods when the water supply of the old Contra Costa company was in a very offensive physical condition. This was caused by perimitts; a very minute vegetable growth to enter the pipes where its decay gave off offensive gases that gave a putrid character to the water. In those days but little intelligence or energy was shown in the correction of conditions.

Since then, and especially since the properly passed into the possession of the Peoples Water Company, a change has been wrought, so beneficial in its results and of such vast value to the communities concerned that their people ought to know it and not be led into the costly consequences that will follow another such unbecoming and corrupting struggle as ensued upon the introduction of the Dineen Company as a rival to the old Contra Costa.

NOT IN LOCAL POLITICS. The Peoples Water Company, having withdrawn entirely from our local politics, has not only permitted the sanitation of politics, resulting in the successive elections of a city government devoted wisely and honestly to public interests and public business, but it has been enabled to devote its financial energies to the strict and scientific sanitation of its water supply. Of this I suppose not fifty people in Oakland are informed. In handling my own property I have encountered the old stories generated in the old conditions of the water supply, and so assume that others have the same experience, and was moved to make an inquiry which disclosed a condition as agreeable as it was surprising.

WATER SANITATION DEPARTMENT. The Peoples Water Company has installed and maintains in daily operation a water sanitation department, with completely equipped chemical and biological laboratories, in charge of expert chemists and bacteriologists.

These laboratories are in charge of Professor Harkness, professor of sanitary engineering in the State University at Berkeley. He is a graduate of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and is a member of the American Society of Civil Engineers, and of the American Water Works Association, the American Public Health Association and the New England Water Works Association. He was for four years a member of the Massachusetts State Board of Health, and of the Philadelphia filtration test stations, was three years in charge of the design and construction of water filtration for Harrisburg, Pa., and designed the filtration plant for Sacramento and the water plant for the State University.

EXPOSITION FUND BREAKS RECORDS WITH $6,156,415

Enthusiasm Runs Riot When the United Railroads Buys $150,000 Stock at Great Meeting in San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO, June 25.—Within less than three months after the campaign was begun to raise funds to finance the San Francisco Panama Pacific Exposition, subscriptions have been made aggregating $6,156,415. The resources of this city which is backed by the Pacific coast and the entire nation, are being drawn upon for the purpose of holding the world's greatest exposition in the present century. The excitement of the present century has not been exhausted and there is no doubt in any quarter but that the financial support of seven millions and a half will be fully completed within a short time.

San Francisco has set a new record in the matter of raising money for a great exposition. The metropolitan area of the coast has not only contributed to the name of the most enterprising community on this coast, but her citizens have demonstrated in a most splendid manner by the amount of their contributions and the promptness with which they have been paid that they are fully alive to the importance of a lasting the prestige of the Pacific coast.

GREAT DEMONSTRATION

A Greek Bearing Gifts.

The California Weekly, which was started by Rudolph Spreckels, Chester Rowell and a few other members of the coterie who have set out to capture the Republican organization in this State, has singled out, Congressman Needham and Smith for commendation, by direct implication condemning the other five regular Republican Representatives from California as unworthy of re-election. A more dishonest argument was never presented to the public, nor one more plainly dictated by the expediency of practical politics. Chester Rowell dares not antagonize Congressman Needham. Smith cannot be beaten in his district, and his newspaper, the Bakersfield Echo, has mildly endorsed Rowell's candidate for Governor.

Needham and Smith are both capable and upright Representatives, and their course in Congress was precisely that pursued by Knowland, Kahn, Englebright, McLaughlin and McKinlay. They voted right along with the Speaker and the Republican majority. They voted for the new tariff law and for all the administration measures; also the River and Harbor bill. They stood against the insurgents on every roll call, just as the other five did. Never once were they ever found with the Hon. Pink Whiskers Hayes of San Jose. They have never given insurgency in or out of California the slightest encouragement.

But the Rowell-Spreckels organ attempts to differentiate by flabby subterfuge and bald lying. The commendation it gives Messrs. Needham and Smith does little credit to those gentlemen and reveals the pie-counter proclivities of the editor of the Weekly, who ate out of the hand of W. H. Mills as long as Mr. Mills ladled the "soap" out of the Southern Pacific barrel. Here it is:

"These two members of the lower house come from districts whose industries are peculiarly dependent upon a protective tariff. To secure what their constituents wanted these men had to make their peace with Aldrich and Cannon. Both of them were anti-stand-patters during the first months of their Congressional experience, but both speedily learned that they must 'stand in' with the organization back there if they would 'get things' that their constituents want."

How is that for a high-toned, moral excuse? Smith and Needham have been ardent protectionists ever since they began to vote, and we give them credit for voting as their convictions dictated. The Rowell organ says they sold their souls for pork-barrel favors. How about the others? McKinlay showed a disposition to insurgence on two or three occasions, but lined up regular, as he said, because he found the insurgents were plotting to overthrow the principles of the Republican party. He secured various appropriations for his district, and if he secured them by supporting the Republican organization of the House, in what respect is he worse than the California Weekly represents Needham and Smith to be?

Needham and Smith have both served several terms in Congress, and at no time did either of them revolt against the rules or the organization of the House; not once did they defy the will of the Republican majority or refuse to be bound by the rule of the caucus. The California Weekly is as untruthful in speaking of their course in Congress as it is unscrupulous in picturing them as mere pot-wallopers in legislation. The praise with which the Rowell sheet beslobbers Needham and Smith smells like the slaver of a rogue.

The night of May 16th a light frost fell in Chicago, the final touch of a cold, raw disagreeable spring. On June 18th—just one month later—the following dispatch was sent out from Chicago: "Nine deaths, scores of heat prostrations and more than forty victims of mad dogs are the result tonight of three days' torrid weather in Chicago." Yet there are people who complain of California weather. Every little change here provokes all sorts of grumbling, but notwithstanding the complaints about trifles the region around San Francisco Bay has a climate that is nearly perfect. Nowhere else on the globe is there an equal extent of productive territory so blessed in the matter of climate—so pleasant to dwell and labor in, so captivating to the senses, so attractive to the eye and so healthful and invigorating to mind and body. It is happy mean between the rigors of cold and the enervation and languor of excessive heat. Here there is no such thing as frost in May and sunstroke in June. Oakland is the center of this region of bliss.

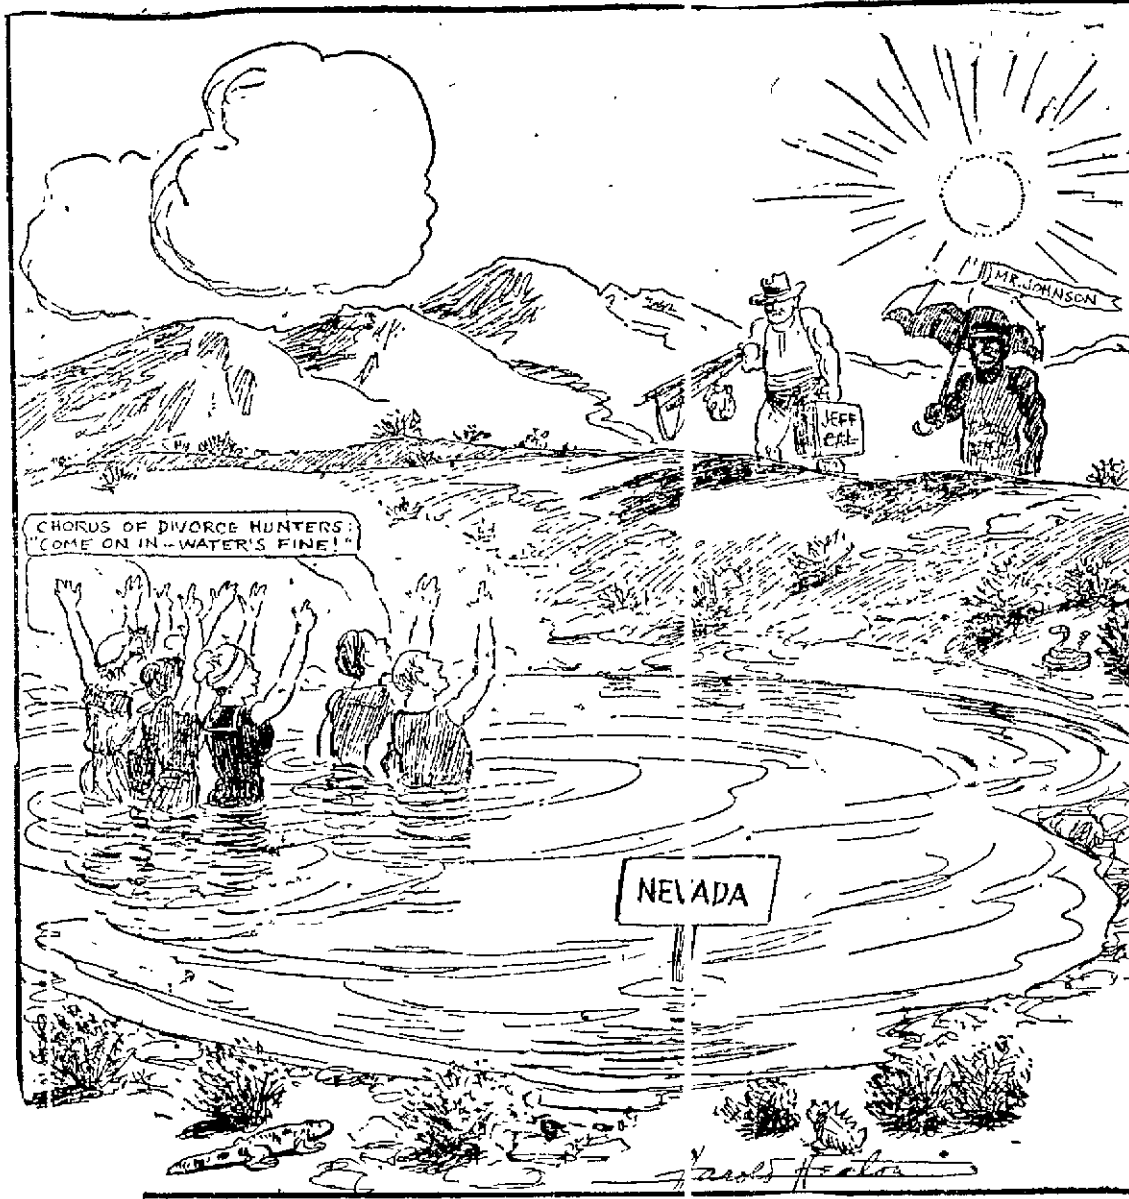

Let's Get a Move On.

The bond issue for a new city hall and water front improvements were voted in November, 1909 seven months ago. No contracts have been let for the water front improvements and a design for the city hall was accepted this week. This is rather slow progress—slower than the public expected. However, contracts will be let in a few days for a section of the water front improvements, and work may be expected to begin soon hereafter. Now that plans for the city hall have been drawn and accepted, it is to be hoped that contracts for construction work will be let as soon as the legal formalities can be complied with. This is said in no fault-finding spirit, but in all kindness and good will. We do not intend to imply that due diligence has not been shown by the Board of Public Works, but we do say the public expects to see things move faster in future. People generally do not understand why work has been so long delayed, and they will not be entirely satisfied till actual operations begin. Mayor Mott and his colleagues have had many irons in the fire, and cannot do everything at once, but the tedious preliminaries have at last been settled and matters should be pushed with all possible speed till ground is broken. It is particularly important to Oakland that work on the projected improvements be inaugurated at the earliest practicable moment and pushed to conclusion with energy and dispatch. The people wait action and want it without a minute's needless delay. It will give them a thrill of exhilaration to see construction work begun.

The defense of insanity is already set up for Porter Charlton, and the ready expert has promptly come forward with the statement that Charlton was a maniac when he murdered his wife. The elaborate precautions Charlton took to conceal his crime and the ingenuity he displayed in eluding the police and escaping from the country do not square with the theory of insanity. Moreover, Charlton clearly remembers all the details of the murder, the provocation for his deed and the events which have transpired since. It is intimated that the Italian government will not seriously endeavor to extradite and punish Charlton. It is incredible that a civilized government should decline to do its duty to society in this matter. As the murder was committed in a foreign country the American courts have no jurisdiction but it is Italy's duty to punish the criminal who stained her soil with the sanguine strains of murder. The State Department should intimate to the Italian Ambassador the desirability of prosecuting Charlton. It would be a shame to let him go without serious effort to return him to Italy for trial.

THE REFUGE

Editorial Paragraphs

SOCIETY can either flatter or "floor" a man by a SOCIAL SCALE of its own standard—it's often a CASH BALANCE.

THE man who has the reputation of being TWO-FACED don't usually keep EITHER ONE presentable for good society.

PESSIMISM puts about itself the cloak of dissatisfaction; it invites the world to look upon its false colors—never showing the good side of itself.

GENEROSITY of thought, actions and deeds are the materials from which master minds are developed; SELFISHNESS is the reputation of adding little to less.

MAKE your work a pleasure if you would succeed; successful achievements are never hampered but freed.

NEVER listen to what you know to be false; having heard what is known to be a lie never tell it to others—"swapping lies" is not a fair exchange.

MAN makes excuses for LACK of virtue and for fulness of vice in himself; but EXCUSES do not create energy and the pendulum will not swing back.

WHEN a man refuses to listen to your advice you are apt to say, "He will not listen to reason"—"you are it."

THERE are two classes of successful people; those who take everything and get swelled heads with nothing in them, and those who give from head and pocketbook to fill the heart.

FAME outlives LIFE and becomes a monument to the DEAD; monumental fame a fable becomes, to teach the living to live.

TAKE a look at yourself as others see you; put yourself in their shoes and you will believe the talk you have heard about yourself to be true.

Interesting Bits

To the question, "How old are the Niagara Falls?" geologists have returned replies varying by tens of thousands of years. At first it was estimated that the Niagara river came into existence through changes in the level of the land around the great lakes about 55,000 years ago. Later this was reduced to only 12,000 years. Lyell increased the estimate again to 35,000 years, and still later other scientists lowered it to about 9000 years.

Ten years ago the immigration to the Argentine Republic was almost exclusively Italian and Spanish. Today there are colonies of Russians near Bahia Blanca; 10,000 Poles are settled in Misiones and 7000 Finns are arranging to be their neighbors. Bulgarians, Croates, Greeks and Turks from Asia Minor are distributed in increasing streams.

In the sixteenth century clothes were sent from all parts of France to be washed in Holland, where the waters of the canals was supposed to have special cleansing properties. The cost of transport was about ten times greater in those days than at present.

Size yourself up as others do so and you'll find that you don't amount to so much.

Pro Rata if All Wealth Was Divided

The Treasury Department has issued another one of its delightful little estimates of the amount of money every citizen would have if the whole amount in circulation were evenly divided.

For purely statistical purposes every one of us has $34.59 in his pocket at the present moment. And that's not all of it, either. Each one of us has exactly 14 cents more than he had last month.

The usual way for a man to determine how much money he has in his pocket is to turn it inside out and count the change. But that method is often unsatisfactory. The sum total is quite depressing.

The Treasury way is better. It invariably gives a fairly reputable result. Take the total amount in circulation and divide it by the population, and you always come out with $30 or $35, even though the money is strictly hypothetical.

We can estimate the value of these occasional reminders from the Treasury that, statistically considered, we have all this money that it mentions. How many dissatisfied expressions must have vanished at the mere suggestion!

I may be said that, after all, the individual may not have $34.59; that the disillusionment when he reaches down and finds a deficit may cause him to become gloomier than ever, and that the Treasury per capita figures may thus do harm instead of good.

Nonsense! Everybody knows by this time that he has made this money.

A man is never so easily deceived as when he is trying to deceive others.

for purely statistical purposes. Also that the first quality required in money of this sort is that it is unspendable. If he could spend statistical money, where would he statistically be?

In one respect this may be an inconvenience. But from another viewpoint it is a great advantage. Being unable to spend it, a man always has somewhere in the neighborhood of $35 of hypothetical or statistical dollars in his pocket. He can never be statistically "broke."

But such refinements are really beside the mark. The thing of value is the reiterated suggestion from a place of high authority that, granting certain conditions not necessary to dwell on, every one of us has $35 or thereabouts.

Where is the man so callous as not to feel warmed at this cheerful message from the Treasury of his Government? Where is the critic so captious as to demand that he have the money in a roll instead of in the form of statistics before he will allow himself to share the general gladness?—Chicago Inter-Ocean.

The Artiste and Tights

What shall be the law of tights for the fair ones of the stage? Is it to be left to the whim of those who when they will they will, and when they won't they won't? Is beauty to have its imperious way contrary to or no contracts? Is a fertile field for the fancy of press agents to be abandoned? These are questions suggested by a decision of the court of appeals of New York, which seems sufficiently indefinite, what with a divided opinion and indeterminate precedents.

The trial of the suit has served to bring out the interesting record that the fair Lillian Russell once upon a time refused to wear tights. But that artist was at least consistent. She did not base her refusal on ethical grounds, but upon her fear of catching cold. She was sensitive about her vocal chords, not about the lines of beauty, objects of envy upon one side of the footlights and of flank front-row admiration upon the other.

Precedents upon the subject are unsatisfactory. In the case of one whimsical songstress, the manager graciously assented to her appearance in a riding habit. But such a substitute might not always fit a part. Moreover, the right to change her mind, and consequently her costume, would appear inalienable from the reserved privileges of a feminine star.

Rightly considered, this is not a problem of flippancy. It is a serious question of art. When the part requires, and when the motive of managers is unquestionably sincere, there can be no quarrel. The issue is one of good taste, about which there can be no argument. The fact of discussion is, in truth, a reflection upon those who debate. A sufficient purity of mind would banish the topic to the narrow view of the happily limited number of persons who profess to be shocked by what they may behold in any art gallery.

Fashions in Beards

In ancient times the beard was the badge of manhood, the sign of dignity and authority. This remains true in the Jewish race and the strongest oath of the devout Mohammedan is "by the beard of the prophet." Sculptured images of the kings of Assyria and Babylon show long and were compelled to go smooth shaven, were compelled to go smooth shaven, and the beardless youth was an object of scorn.

In Greece and Rome the custom varied with the periods. Most of the great Romans of later times went without beards. In the middle ages and in the Elizabethan era beards were generally worn, although occasionally a beardless monarch started a fad that made the barber happy.

In Great Britain and this country in the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries the beard was almost unknown. In the nineteenth century it again came into favor. Most of the young men of fifty years ago wore beards. The mustache is far less common today than beards were fifty years ago.

The French army divided into factions on the question of whiskers. A bitter campaign has been waged for several months by the supporters of a petty officer in the Moroccan naval division, who insisted on wearing a beard 14 inches in length in spite of all the official threats and entreaties. For eight months the man has not left his ship, and meanwhile his beard has grown steadily. Now a decree has been prepared by the Ministry of the Marine which will limit all beards to two and one-fifth inches in length.

Another very probable divorce in the navy set its furnishing Madame Grundy with some very toothsome morsels just now. The couple in question have been married only a year, but the bride, as it is claimed, has succeeded in playing for part in the domestic establishment much more successfully than did Katharine against Petruchio in the famous play. Before the marriage she was a member of Oakland's exclusive society. Since the wedding she has lived in Mare Island, where her handsome husband, a lieutenant of the navy, is stationed. Besides her lovely home on the navy base, she was a frequent visitor to the club, and succeeded in winning notable admiration through her chic, witty and very ways. The gossip used to maintain that Constructeur Evans proposed to her in the nebulous pretense surrounding his own much-discussed divorce. The same insidious divorce microbe seems to have affected the families of the mothers and sisters of the wife of the yeomanster of the navy. Perhaps that is why the supposition of a divorce is

THE MEDDLER

MRS. CLAUDE BENTON BARTON, one of the brides whose wedding on Wednesday night was a notable event.

MRS. H. W. CHILDS of Spokane, who, until her marriage a few months ago, was interesting Gladys Cummings, prominent in Berkeley society.

A BRIGHT woman of the smart set, being asked what to her was the real charm of the summer vacation days answered: "The opportunity to do as you please." And truly summer is the only time of the year that such a thing can happen in a busy life. Days are strenuous in modern methods of living duties are insistent; live are bounded by measurements not made by ourselves. And if we are people worth while, there rarely comes a time, except in summer, when we can do somewhat as we please.

July is the ideal month for vacation in California—it is not too cold then in the mountains, or at the sea shore. And both bring to one the out-of-door life without which no summer can be complete. There are the most delightful walks in the Santa Cruz mountains, and in the Sierras, and it is wonderful how very good the California mountain roads are for motoring or cycling. The most attractive beaches are not very far away, and there is a rare fascination in watching, for long days, the great breakers rolling up on the wide stretch of sands. It would make a study of absorbing interest to watch the activities that people would choose when the daily duties are lifted from their shoulders.

We all know the dignified lawyer who said if he could have chosen his sphere in life he would have elected to be a drum major, and that he never saw a drum major without a sense of song filling his soul. And there is the sedate capitalist who said that the only holiday gift he craved was a candy cane. And that no one ever had been moved to send him one.

So, in summer, it makes a fascinating study to observe how many people spend their leisure time. There are the men who can traverse the wilderness for days on a hunting expedition, and there are others whose supreme joy it is to lazily fish down the stream.

WEDDING OF MISS MAXWELL

June, the month of roses, is also the month for weddings, and many of the latter have been of special interest. The wedding of Miss Gladys Maxwell and Mr. Jackson, which took place at the bride's home on Wednesday evening, was very beautifully appointed and specially charming in many of its details.

The Maxwell home is one of the most artistic in Piedmont, and makes a lovely background for any social gathering. The Chinese hall is wonderfully unique and attractive, and the conservatory opening off from it offers green vistas that add cool and delightful color tones.

The Maxwells have many friends, as have also the Jacksons, and they would have been glad of a large wedding, but Mrs. Maxwell's late serious illness rendered the more extensive plans impossible. The guest list included the relatives of the bride and groom, and the most intimate friends of each.

The decorations of the Maxwell home were exceedingly effective, and the color tone of pink was specially well brought out with quantities of pink blossoms. The ceremony was performed under a very beautiful wedding veil, made of pale pink roses.

The bride, who is very pretty indeed, with a unique, individual style, made a charming study in her wedding gown of white satin, showing beautiful hand embroidery. The wedding veil was made of orange blossoms and pink roses of the valley, and the bride's bouquet was a shower arrangement of bride's roses.

The maid of honor was Miss Dorothy Capwell, who wore a dainty frock of pink chiffon over pink satin, and who carried a basket of bridesmaids' roses, in tones of pink.

Salie Havens is a very charming little girl, with sweet manners and she made a lovely little flower girl, dressed in a very pretty gown of pink and carrying a gold basket filled with appropriate Cecil Brunner roses.

After the ceremony there was an informal wedding reception, after which a elaborate wedding supper was served.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Jackson have gone away on an extended vacation trip, and on their return they will reside in the Maxwell home, while Mrs. Maxwell is East with her sister, Mrs. Havens, this summer.

Later, the young people are planning to have their own home, which will be made very attractive by the many beautiful gifts which expressed the good wishes of relatives and friends.

MISS STELLA SLAVICH BRIDE OF CLAUDE BARTON

One of the most elaborate weddings of the season took place at the Slavich home in this city, when Miss Stella Slavich and Claude Barton were married on Wednesday evening. The families are both extremely prominent here, and the wedding has been of special interest to a great many people. The bride is exceedingly charming, and she was a specially attractive picture in a very beautifully designed wedding gown. All the wedding details were most elaborately planned, and the twelve bridesmaids made a charming group of wedding attendants, with the bride making a picture attractive and beautiful.

Mr. and Mrs. Barton are away on a wedding trip, and when they return they will begin homekeeping in their own new residence on Adams Point.

CHURCH WEDDING OF THE WEEK

The church wedding of the week was that of Miss Edith Warner and

Mr. Harold Burnside, which took place at St. Paul's Church on Wednesday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Warner and their daughter came to Oakland immediately after the earthquake, and since establishing their residence here they have made many friends on our side of the bay.

The daughter of the family is very talented, and a girl much worth while. She is a most accomplished musician, an exceedingly fine violinist and she has been most generous with the talent fate has given her. She has been a very popular member of St. Paul's choir, and with her violin she has done much good work in other musical societies.

Mrs. Burnside was one of the most popular of all the brides-elect this year, for many delightful entertainments were planned in her honor, all of them expressing the very true-hearted affection of many friends. The church wedding of Miss Phelps and Mr. Burnside was admirably planned, and after the ceremony there was an informal reception at the church, followed by a wedding supper at the bride's home.

Mr. and Mrs. Burnside are to make their home in this city on their return from their wedding trip.

MRS. ROBERT NEWELL ENTERTAINS FRIENDS

Mrs. Robert Newell entertained a dozen friends at bridge at the Spring home in Fruitvale avenue Thursday afternoon. The beautiful Spring home is specially adapted for entertaining. During the afternoon light refreshments were served. The hostess is one of the most popular, as well as one of the most handsome, of the younger matrons. Among those present were: Mrs. Wickham Havens, Mrs. Edward Hugs, Mrs. John Spring, Mrs. John F. Cramers, Mrs. Lou Allender, Mrs. Wilhelm.

PLEASURE IN THE WOODS

"There are those who want companionship, and find life's best times only in 'the heart of the maddening crowd.' There are others to whom solitude appeals, as bringing the only rest to nerves worn out with the strenuous life, which is the portion of most people today.

"O that the desert were my dwelling place," said Childie Harold in his famous pilgrimage, and Byron made his hero express one of his own innermost convictions when he wrote:

"There is a pleasure in the pathless woods,

There is a rapture on the lonely shore;

There is society where none intrudes, By the deep sea, and music in its roar."

Still others choose to rush like mad around the country in a motor car; and others, a hammock, a book, and a shady tree bring real vacation joys.

There are those to whom home is a restful place with the children away for the holidays, and they love to ask their friends to share an afternoon with them, in a quiet game of bridge on a shady porch, or in a sewing tea, with its accompanying afternoon tea; for even in town one plans for an out-of-door life in summer.

So July will see people going their many different ways, getting everywhere the needed rest and recreation that will enable them later to take up the day's work with renewed energy and courage.

THE WEEK-END VISIT

"The week-end visit" has come to be a part of summer life in California, and has come to mean much to the hostess and her guests. Life in the country is lonely and monotonous unless one is able to entertain guests in one's home. And life in the city is brightened by a trip to one's friends in the country.

There are two points of view from which "a week-end visit" may be considered—from the point of view of the hostess, and from that of the guests.

A pessimistic writer in a society journal has this to say concerning the modern "week-ends":

"The victims usually arrive on the same train, or within one train of each other. Their main business in the part they are to play is to wear smart clothes, eat food, tell witty stories, and to view the premises. When each victim has seen everything, he vies with the other victims in raising the country place no end.

"On Monday morning the guests depart declaring they have had the time of their lives. Then they pass the next two hours going back to town in comparing this establishment with others they have visited. And when they get through there isn't a great deal left of it, as a rule."

But he is a very disagreeable writer, with whom the times are out of joint, with whom life has somehow gone wrong, so no one should take him seriously.

In England they manage a week-end visit much better than we do here. Because the hostess and her guests both keep themselves much freer in the forenoon. An English hostess rarely comes down to breakfast and her guests can do as the please regarding it.

The fussy hostess who insists on entertaining her guests all the time tires them so much that they never care to repeat their visit. And on the other hand, the guest who is always in evidence, always a burden on the lands of his hostess, is so tiresome that she is thankful when he takes the train back to town, and he is never asked again.

It takes tact to be a successful week-end hostess, and it takes courtesy and good breeding to be a successful week-end guest.

And that is specially true of young girls. The latter may be charming bringing to a house party the splendid enthusiasm of youth, or she may be spoiled, taking as her right due the many courtesies that may be offered by her fellow guests. There are two things to remember in a country home—not to add to the long-distance telephone bill of the hostess, and to be careful in regard to one's car laundry. For California is rapidly becoming a servantless land, and it is the domestic problem this is weighing most heavily on the shoulders of the hostess who has assumed the responsibilities of a country home.

An Easterner at one of the leading hotels remarked recently what well-chosen names the leading country homes here carried, many of them representing the soft-flowing accents of the Spanish tongue.

Among the well-known out of town places are: Hacienda del Pozo de Verona, Wynton, Alden Farm, Vista del Valle, Villaremi, Stag's Leap, Miramar, Glorietta, Dixie, Manana, Kamp Kili Kare, Alta Vista, Whitewood, Highlands, The Bend, Arbor Villa, Rosecrest, Gray Gables.

FEW LARGE SOCIAL DATES FOR JULY

Very few large social dates are scheduled for July, since so many people are out of town and the monotony of the social season is only varied by entertainments for brides-elect and by informal gatherings in honor of the young people who have recently returned from school in the East.

"The Pines," the recently built home of the P. E. Bowles at Claremont, was the scene of an informal dance last week, the guests of honor being the Misses Stone, who have recently returned from New York—having spent the year at the Spence School.

Miss Bowles' guests included her young friends from both sides of the bay. Dancing was the amusement of the evening, and at midnight an informal supper was served.

There were several house parties on this side of the bay, young hostesses entertaining friends who were invited to Miss Bowles' dance. Among the largest of the house parties was that entertained by Miss Dorothy Van Sicken, who made her friends specially welcome in her home in Alameda.

There are some interesting and unusually pretty girls in the younger set who have only been out a winter or two. One hears that honors were carried off at Miss Mowles' dance by Miss Marian Miller, who is a beautiful girl with much grace and charm of manner. She has inherited much of the sweetness which always distinguished her mother, the late Mrs. Miller, who was formerly beautiful Miss Eva Tucker.

PEOPLE ABROAD WE KNOW

News notes from abroad bring messages concerning many people well known here. One hears that Emma Nevada's daughter is to take the stage name of Gloria Mignon, and is to make her debut in opera in London in the near future. She has already appeared with much success in Rome and Florence. Gloria Mignon is the only daughter of Madame Emma Nevada, the well-known singer, who received her education and most of her musical training at Mills College. She was always a star pupil and her name being Emma Wixon—she was known all through her school girl days as "Wixie." Among her California friends is Mrs. W. E. Sharon of Piedmont.

The F. M. Smiths have changed their minds since they went abroad. They took a house in London, where they proposed to spend the season, going later to the continent. But the London season suffered an eclipse owing to the passing of King Edward, so the Smiths gave up their plan of spending the early summer in England. They have been in making a most interesting tour of Ireland, and they are scheduled to sail on the Battle for America on July 25, planning to spend the rest of the summer at Shelter Island.

Mrs. James B. Hume, past president of the California Federation of Women's Clubs, is also abroad. She is planning to spend the greater part of the summer in London, where she now is, and later in the year she will make a tour of the continent.

Mrs. Clarke Goddard and Miss Florence Goddard of Berkeley have gone abroad this year, and are at present in Paris. For many years the home of the Goddards was in Oakland, and Mrs. Goddard has been a very prominent member of the Ubel Club.

Miss Goddard's engagement was announced last winter to Justin McKibben of Berkeley, and the wedding will take place in the autumn, when the Goddards return from abroad. Miss Goddard is purchasing much of her trousseau in Paris.

MRS. ROJAND OLIVER IN THE SOUTH SEAS

Mrs. Ro and Oliver (Marion Smith) and Miss Grace Wisham, the clever scene painter of the Liberty Theater, have been spending the year in southern latitudes. Mrs. Oliver has been traveling for her health and has been following an unusual itinerary. With Miss Wisham, she spent some time in the South Sea Islands, going later to New Zealand. The travelers left New Zealand the latter part of April, and were due to arrive this week in Australia, planning to spend some time in Sydney. The trip has done Mrs. Oliver a great deal of good, and she writes that her health is much improved.

DR. AND MRS. ALDERSON SAIL FOR HONOLULU

Dr. and Mrs. Harry Alderson (Coradella Bishop) sailed recently for Honolulu, called there by the illness of Mrs. Alderson's aunt Mrs. Allen. The latter, who has one of the most beautiful places in Honolulu, is a great invalid and has been ill for many years. Her relatives, the Edgar Browns and the Aldersons, make as many trips to the Islands as they can, and spend as much time as possible with Mrs. Allen.

Dr. Alderson, who is made a notable success as a specialist, has spent a great deal of time in the East studying, and Mrs. Alderson has not been in Oakland as much as her friends could have wished. One of her most intimate friends is Mrs. George Jensen, who was Anita Oliver.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dutton (Alice Boggs), who closed their Berkeley home this summer, are now in London. They are planning later in the season to go to the continent, where a delightful itinerary will occupy them during the remainder of the season.

MISS JOHNSON TO GO EAST

Miss Josephine Johnson is to spend the entire summer in the East with relatives who have planned a great deal of entertainment for her. Besides relatives, Miss Johnson has many friends on the Atlantic coast as she spent two years in one of the leading finishing schools of Massachusetts.

Mr. Sutton and his daughter, Miss Carmen Sutton, are planning to spend part of the summer in the Canadian Rockies, where one finds some of the finest scenery in the world. "Banff," in the heart of magnificent forests, is becoming one of the most noted summer resorts on the great Canadian overland route.

OAKLAND PEOPLE TO GO TO CARMEL

Many well known people are planning in July to enjoy a few days' outing at Carmel-by-the-Sea. Miss Alice MacGowan, the novelist, and her niece, Miss Helen Cooke of Carmel, came up to town recently to see Maude Adams in "What Every Woman Knows."

Both Miss MacGowan and Miss Cooke are cast for important parts in "David," the drama to be given in July at the open-air theater at picturesque Carmel, the great event that is attracting the attention of the literary world.

Mrs. Frederick Stolp and her daughter, Carmen, have been spending part of the summer at Carmel, and Mr. and Mrs. George Sterling are to entertain relatives there in July. Miss Avis Sterling will, as usual, spend part of the summer at fascinating Carmel-by-the-Sea.

VACATION AT ST. HELENA

The Livermores, Tobins and Chabots are among the prominent families who have well established summer homes in the St. Helena region.

Mrs. Chabot has with her many the various members of her family, the Dekmanns, Dunns, Knights and Mr. and Mrs. Boqueraz. And there is always room in the large country home at Villaremi for friends. The Livermores also have large week-end parties, for they have a large circle of very intimate friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Tobin have often as their guests each summer Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Magre.

Mr. and Mrs. William Magre and their children are spending most of the summer at Alden Farm, the picturesque country home in the hills near Fruitvale.

FIGHT PREPARATIONS MAKE RENO HUM

JEFF PRACTICES BLOCK FOR JACK'S UPPER CUT

Big Fellow Works in Gym and Puts on the Gloves With His Sparring Partners

By EDDIE SMITH.

RENO, Nev., June 25.—The first thing I heard when I alighted from the train at this place was a baggage man shouting: "77423—box containing boxing gloves." The tally clerk repeated the call as we walked away from the depot. From that time on I have heard nothing but boxing gloves and fights. The little town of Reno is fight wild. The state of enthusiasm that the people here are showing over the prospects of the big battle is second only to the enthusiasm displayed by the people of the bay cities when the soldiers sailed away for the Philippine islands at the outbreak of the Spanish-American war. It far exceeds that of Goldfield at the time of the Goss-Nelson contest, and the old-timers of the game who are here say that they never saw anything like it.

Discuss Merits of Gladiators

Every one is talking over the merits of the two great gladiators and at the hotels and lounging places about the city the mining man has found it difficult to get any one to listen to his wondrous tales of the riches of Nevada. The hotels are fast filling up and with each trainload the colony of sporting celebrities is increased by two or three, and with the crowd already on hand it would seem that every sporting man of prominence in the country will be here within the next few days.

As a word of warning to the prospective visitor to Reno I would suggest that you make reservation for rooms before leaving for this place, for at the present time it surely looks as if the town will be filled to overflowing with the next few days. The hotel men and business men about town are greatly pleased with the outlook and all seem glad that the big battle is to be decided here.

Finds Jeffries Hard at Work

This morning I visited the Jeffries camp at Moana Springs, and somewhat to my surprise found the big fellow hard at his work. It was probably owing to the fact that there were so few people about the camp that the big fellow made up his mind to do gymnasium work, for he had said on retiring last night that he would do road work this morning. Promptly at ten bells Jeffries was at his work, however, and from the manner in which he stepped through his paces it would seem that the high altitude had not done him much harm. The champion opened up his day's work by punching the bag, and he tore at the leather with such force that he succeeded in breaking the cord holding the bag to the platform three times before switching to his other work. After this he skipped the rope and jumped about the newly erected boxing platform for a short time.

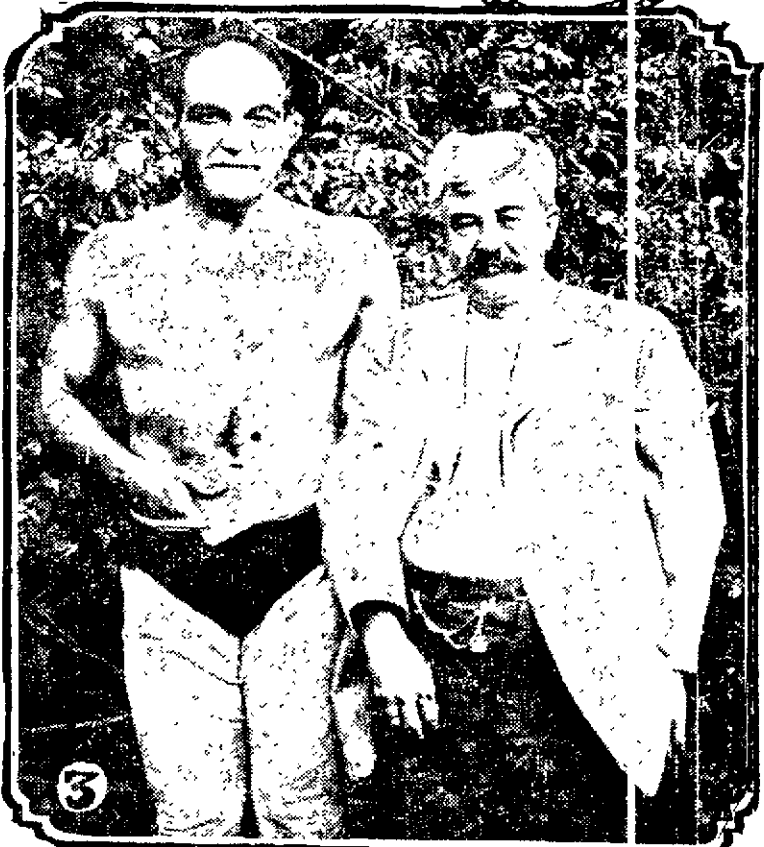

The gloves were then brought out and Bob Armstrong and Jeffries put them on. There was little or no real boxing indulged in, for Jeffries was a trifle timid about taking any chances on the bare floor.

Practice Johnson's Uppercut

It appears that the canvas covering for the ring is being brought to the camp from Rowardennan by Jeffries' nephew in his machine. At some place along the road the machine broke and so something of the sort and the canvas has not arrived as yet. The boxing was of the mauling and hauling order, something after the style of men in the clinics. In all of the breakaways Armstrong tried to imitate the Johnson upper cut, and Jeff each time cleverly blocked it with his shoulder, and each time planted his left with a solid thud on the kidneys of the colored man. It is easy to see that the men of the Jeffries camp are sure that Johnson's best punch is his right upper cut, and almost all of their work is being done to develop a block and counter for it. Several times Jeffries hit Armstrong rather hard, and with each hard punch the negro would wince and pull away with a caution to the big white man to be a little careful. Three rounds in all were put on with Armstrong and then Jack Jeffries was taken on for two rounds.

Shows Partner to Hit Him

In the two rounds with his brother, Jeffries did little in the matter of trying to hit the smaller man, but several times he deliberately held his chin out and allowed it to come up slam bang with the swings of the sparring partner. Of course it is needless for me to say that his brother was not hitting the fighter as hard as he could, for this is not possible. It is next thing to impossible to hit a man as hard as you can when you know he is deliberately holding his chin out to be hit, and there is no ill feeling between you. The punches were a good deal harder than I would care to have to take, however, and they would have felled many another man. Jeffries is evidently testing out his assimilating power to find out if he will be able to take the punches he was noted for when in his prime. From my observation it would seem that they did him little harm, at that, and when asked if they affected him he said: "Well do you think I would take them like that if they did?"

Does Vigorous Back Bending

After the boxing Jeffries indulged in some vigorous back bending over a chair that is expected to strengthen the muscles of his stomach. This exercise is done by placing one chair with the back removed, so that he is resting on the small of his back when lying out flat. The other chair is placed so that his feet are looked under the rungs of it and one of the trainers sits on it to hold it down. Then the big fellow bends back until his head almost touches the floor, and he wriggles about and raises himself to a sitting position and then back down again at least a dozen times. This is a violent mode of exercise and when he straightened up he was out of wind and the blood had rushed to his head to some extent.

Plays With Camp Jester

It was just a moment, however, before he had regained his wind and as the work was over he started after the camp jester, Dick Adams, and for a few minutes it would seem as if Adams' life was worth about ten cents on the dollar. Of a sudden Jeffries took a notion that it would be a good idea to strip the little fellow and throw him into the swimming tank. Adams wobbled and fought, but he had little chance, and the only thing that saved him was the presence of some women. Never before have I seen Jeffries as cheerful and playful as he was this morning, and his trainers are in the highest of spirits over his condition.

DE WITT VAN COURT TO BE CHIEF IN JEFF'S CORNER

Famous Trainer and Boxing Instructor to Assist Big Fellow in the Great Fight

(By EDDIE SMITH.)

TRIBUNE HEADQUARTERS, Reno, June 25.—From a reliable source of information I have been informed that De Witt Van Court will be the chief adviser of Jim Jeffries in the "Battle of the Century" and the most important event of Jeffries' ring career. Just who the other second will be no one seems to know, but at this writing it would seem that Jim Corbett, Farmer Burns, Jack Jeffries and Manager Sam Berger will assist Van Court. With a camp full of assistants and trainers Jeffries sent for Van Court and the led the writer to make investigations as to what he was needed for. The selection may be subject to changes but at this writing I am sure that Van Court will be the chief adviser when the big man steps into the ring to meet John Arthur Johnson.

AN OLD-TIME FRIEND. De Witt Van Court has been a close friend to Jeffries for many years and was one of his tutors in the early days of his career. He is a thoroughly competent man and has few equals in this country when it comes to having a knowledge of the art of footfalls.

Manager Sam Berger also has a keen regard for Van Court's ability as well, for it was he who taught Sam the first rudiments of the boxing game and made him the amateur champion heavy-weight of America. Sam improved after leaving Van Court, as did Jeffries, but the foundation of his cleverness was laid by Van Court.

BOXING INSTRUCTOR. Van Court first came into prominence as an expert on footfalls as boxing instructor of the Acme Club of Oakland during the years that he was the instructor of boxing at that club the club turned out the best boxers on the Pacific coast and members held every championship from the bantam-weight to the heavy-weight in the amateur divisions. After this the Olympic Club, recognizing Van Court's ability as an instructor, he was given a position at that club and acted as an assistant to Walter Watson. At that time he taught at both the Acme and Olympic clubs, but at no time was he ever accused of being anything but fair to both organizations.

DEVELOPED STARS. Soon after this Watson was released and Van Court took entire charge of the Olympic Club boxing men. It was under his guidance that the numbers of that club won so many championships and it was he who developed Jimmy Britt and Al Kaufman as well as numerous other ring celebrities. Whatever the writer can claim of knowing of the art of boxing was taught him by Van Court and for SPECIAL TRAIN FROM NEW YORK. CHICAGO, June 25.—Word has been received that there will be five special cars for the big fight at Reno leaving New York next Monday to make up one of the sections of the special which will start from here Tuesday night. Everything has been arranged for passengers on the train to take all meals aboard going and coming and during the stay at Reno. In addition to the crowd from New York, Detroit, Pittsburg, Milwaukee and other towns will contribute good sized delegations.

FIGHT TRAIN FROM FRESNO. FRESNO, June 25.—Arrangements are being made today for a Pullman car to convey a crowd of Fresno sports to Reno to see the big fight. The car will be taught him by Van Court and for

HATCHET IS BURIED BY JEFF AND JOHN L.

RENO, June 25.—Peace is declared between John L. Sullivan and the Jeffries camp. Shortly before noon today John L. made a second trip to Moana Springs. There following a reconciliation with James J. Corbett, he shook hands with Jeffries and the peace between the famous pugilists was closed. William Madison, John L. Sullivan's old trainer, is given credit for bringing about the reconciliation.

GREETING IS CORDIAL. Corbett was standing nearby when Sullivan alighted from his automobile. John L. was straight up to "Gentleman Jim" and extended his hand. From the friendly manner evinced by Corbett as he returned John L.'s salutations, no one would have suspected that he had ever been hostile to the veteran.

BOTH FIGHTERS WORK. Both Jeffries and Johnson were busy this morning. Jeffries had a session of rope skipping, shadow boxing and bag punching, but until his last-floor platform is padded and covered with canvas he will not be sparring. While shadow boxing today Jeffries slipped on the floor and fell and fell to his knees. No injury was sustained by the big fellow, but the accident showed that he is a trifle unsteady on his feet. He was at the platform until it had been put in proper trim.

SIX-MILE RUN. Johnson took a six-mile run as a prelude to heavy training work in Reno. The champion was weighed when he came in from the road and his pointers said that he had lost a loss of three pounds in the last four or five days.

Accompanied by Tom Flanagan and his manager, John L. Sullivan is expected out to Johnson's camp this morning and had a long chat with the big negro. Jack gave John L. a cordial reception and the veteran appeared to be much impressed with the champion's appearance.

According to Promoter Jack Gleason, who arrives here this morning, his certificates for fight tickets will be sold on the third of July, and the day after tomorrow, when on that day holders of certificates who wish to have their money must notify the promoters' bank in San Francisco to have their money paid in person, before the hour named or it will be taken for granted that cancellations are not intended.

BETTING IS HEAVY. SAN FRANCISCO, June 25.—Betting on the Jeffries-Johnson fight today has been very heavy, with the odds of 10 to 6 in favor of Jeffries. There was a strong rush of Jeffries' money and it is believed that before the fight the odds will run 2 to 1 in favor of the white man. The two big pool-rooms which are handling most of the betting reported they were doing more business than they ever did on any previous contest. Some Eastern money is coming in but the odds have been made by local bettors.

indications are that it will carry at least twenty-five passengers. The crowd will leave here on the third of July and arrive in Reno early on the morning of the fight.

ALAMEDA FINDS BRIDE ACROSS BAY

Pretty Home Wedding Unites Well Known Church People for Life.

At a very pretty home wedding Miss Marie Petersen was united to Daniel H. Selling at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Petersen, 2509 Twenty-first street, San Francisco, on Wednesday, June 22.

The rooms on the lower floor of the house were decorated in pink and white, with carnations and green ferns. The guests enjoyed a supper in honor of the occasion after the ceremony.

Rev. William Thomas of the Baptist church, who was formerly pastor of the English street church in Oakland, officiated.

Mr. and Mrs. Selling left for Sacramento and valley points immediately after the wedding and will reside in Alameda, the groom's home, upon their return.

Both the bride and groom are well known in church circles of Alameda county and will be welcomed by a large number of friends upon their return next week.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

NO MORE GRAY HAIR.

It is easier to preserve the color of the hair than to restore it, although it is possible to do both. Our grandmothers understood the secret. They made and used a "sage tea," and their dark, glossy hair long after middle life was due to this fact. Our mothers have gray hairs because they are fifty, but they are beginning to appreciate the wisdom of our grandmothers in using "sage tea" for their hair, and are fast following suit. The present generation has the advantage of the past in that it can get a ready to use preparation called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur. As a scalp tonic and color restorer, this preparation is vastly superior to the ordinary "sage tea" made by our grandmothers, and it can be bought for 50 cents and $1 a bottle at almost any first-class drug store, or will be sent direct by the Wyeth Chemical Company, 74 Cortlandt St., New York City, upon receipt of price.

For sale and recommended by The Oak Drug Co., 1214 and Broadway, 10th and Washington, 16th and San Pablo.

WICKERSHAM SEES RAILROAD PEACE

Attorney-General Declares the Operation of New Law Will Remedy.

CHICAGO, June 25.—Attorney-General Wickersham, in an address to the bar of the Illinois Bar Association last night, expressed the opinion that under the operation of the new railroad law much of the antagonism between shippers and carriers would be removed.

"The corner of the corner," which resulted in the enactment of the new law has been between two principles of governmental regulation; one practicable, the other impracticable.

"The bill proposed by the government and finally enacted empowered the Interstate Commerce Commission when, in its opinion, upon a prima facie consideration any proposed increase in rates or change in classifications or regulations seemed to be unfair or unwarranted, to propose the actual taking effect of such increase or change until it had been thoroughly investigated.

OPPOSING THEORY.
"The opposing theory proposed to require the commission to investigate every proposed change and determine, in advance whether or not it should take effect before it becomes operative. Considering that upwards of 20,000 schedules of changes in rates, etc., are filed every year, it readily will be perceived that this system would have absolutely broken down the commission and quartered its division into so many separate bodies as to make co-ordination impossible.

"Under the new law, the railroad companies are left to carry on their business on their own initiative, cautioned by the fact that in case a proposed action is unduly burdensome to the public, there is a tribunal to which appeal may be had, for the application of the equitable principles of preventing a threatened wrong.

"Such powers as these, exercised with regard to the rights of the shippers and the public alike, cannot but fail to remove much feeling of antagonism between shippers and carriers.

BIG LUMBER YARD SWEEP BY FLAMES

Man Overcome by Heat in Fire That Causes a Loss of $35,000.

TRACY, June 25.—The Tracy Lumber Yards were entirely destroyed by fire yesterday afternoon, though the people of the town and the railroad engines made a determined fight to stop the flames. The blaze was first noticed in the west corner of the yard, and before any water could be thrown on the fire it spread to such proportions that there was little hope to check it.

There was a strong wind blowing and it fanned the flames to such an extent that the whole yard was soon enveloped, creating such intense heat that the people could not get near the yard. A. J. Russell, the manager of the yard, was overcome by heat and had to be taken to his home for treatment.

It is estimated that the loss will be about $35,000, partially covered by insurance.

COMPANY AT OUTS WITH GOVERNMENT

Vallejo Ferry People Complain Against Use of Government Launch.

VALLEJO, Cal., June 25.—Complaining against the use of government launches in carrying officers and men from this city to the Mare Island Navy yard and objecting to the competition of launch companies, the Vallejo Ferry Company refused to renew its contract with the government yesterday for the transportation of yard employees, enlisted men, naval officers and their families.

The company holds a franchise from the government and contends that the conditions of the instrument are being violated. An injunction was granted more than a year ago by the Superior Court of Solano county preventing the operation of the independent launch lines, but the navy yard clerks and others who had patronized the launch lines organized "aquatic" clubs and paid for their transportation in dues.

Husband Declines To Share Wife's Love

Being a practical man, considerably occupied by the task of earning a living, Charles V. Fitch has given up the study of his wife's psychological attitude, which prompted her to have two men equally well. Instead he has taken a short cut out of his troubles by getting a final decree of divorce, which was signed yesterday.

Daniel Savage is the other man in the case. Fitch relates that one night he came home and found his wife, Sophie, and Savage on the front porch in the moonlight, protesting under affection. Fitch broke up the tableau with a painter's jack, which he hurled at Savage.

Fitch said he was willing to forgive his wife, but when she told him she loved Savage equally well he said he was a monogamist and expected his wife to be one, too. So he left and sued for divorce.

$25,000 to Be Given As State Fair Prizes

SACRAMENTO, June 25.—The State Agricultural Society has set aside $25,000 to be given this year in premiums at the state fair.

In addition there will be liberal special premiums, not classified yet, and so not appearing in the list being published. The premium lists take in almost everything manufactured, grown or raised.

Don't put off reaching for the first appearance of this disease. If properly treated at once it will get well in a few days without complications. Many a man is losing the power of his sex organs because of neglect. Drug store treatment, patent nostrums and quacks are responsible for many a man's weakened vitality and a general broken down condition. A greater part of my practice is devoted to restoring to health and strength men who have made such mistakes. My success and the completeness of my cures is well known throughout the country. I have cured many men especially, and otherwise to consult me at the first appearance of trouble. Don't let quacks or bunglers ruin you. I have cured thousands of men. I am a doctor, not a quack. It will outlive two other Pianos, each of which costs nearly as much as a STEINWAY.

Its wonderful tone will inspire the student or the professional as no other Piano can.

After ten, fifteen or twenty-five years of use a STEINWAY will be worth twice as much as any other Piano used as long.

Like all Pianos we have a STEINWAY that may be bought on moderate terms of payment.

FATHER OFFERS AID TO CHARLTON IF FOUND INSANE

New York Jurist Will Make No Effort to Thwart Justice.

"PEOPLE MAY HAVE HIS BLOOD IF HE IS SANE"

Report of Four Expert Alienists Will Govern Future Actions.

NEW YORK, June 25.—Judge Charlton, father of Porter Charlton, confessed murderer of his wife, the beautiful Mary Scott-Charlton, declared today that unless his son is proven insane at the time he committed the crime he will not aid him.

"If he was in his right senses when he killed his wife the people may have his blood," declared the judge today. "If, on the other hand, we find that his mind was deranged, I shall look him up in an asylum."

NOT THWART JUSTICE. "I cannot repeat too strongly that I am not attempting to thwart justice," said Judge Charlton, feelingly. "As sure as there is a God in Heaven I believe my son was insane and therefore innocent when he killed the woman, who was his wife. But if he was not insane, then he must stand the consequences of his act, and I would be the last man on earth to block the just penalty."

8000 Masons Join In Great Reception

LOS ANGELES, June 25.—Eight thousand Masons from all parts of the state assembled here last night at a "get-together party" and reception to the present and past officers of the grand lodge. It was the largest gathering of members of the order in this end of the state. Among the guests were Grand Master Frank Foster, Santa Ana, and Past Grand Masters D. S. Arkinson of Sacramento and W. T. Lucas of Santa Maria. They were welcomed in an address delivered by Judge William B. H. H. The principal features were a luncheon for 2000 and a ball, both held at the Shriners' auditorium.

SCARED INTO SOUND HEALTH. Mr. B. F. Kelley, Springfield, Ill., writes: "A year ago I began to be troubled with my kidneys and bladder which grew worse until I became alarmed at my condition. I suffered also with dull heavy headaches and the action of my bladder was annoying and painful. I read of Foley's Kidney Pills and after taking them a few weeks the headaches left me, the action of my bladder was again normal and I was free of all distress."

Piedmont News

Since the recent purchase by the city of a site for a fire engine house on Montgomery street, between Ridgeway and Gomez streets, Piedmont residents are in hopes that they will in the near future have much needed fire protection. There is a decided discontent on the part of many residents here over the fact that the city has for so long in time postponed giving this need. At present the nearest fire protection is a mile and a half to two miles distant.

Business men located on Piedmont avenue feel the need of better protection, especially for the most cases the buildings are built close together, and if a conflagration should start the whole row would be lost.

ANNUAL BANQUET.

The Knights of Columbus, Oakland Council No. 784, have chosen the Piedmont Park Clubhouse this year for the holding of their annual banquet. An extensive program for the evening is being prepared and already a number of members have signified their intention of being present.

F. M. Cornell, grand knight of the Oakland Council, will preside as toastmaster and announce those who are down on the toast list are: Mayor Mott, Oakland and its advantages, Edward J. O'Connell, The Order of the Knights, The Ladies, and the Reverend (Bishop) D. J. O'Connell will give an inspiring talk to the banquet knights. Others who will be present are Edward White of Watsonville, state deputy of the order, and N. J. Delegates Neal Power and George Conroy.

NEWS NOTES.

Mr. and Mrs. O. R. Moxer of Los Angeles, and former residents of Piedmont, who have been visiting here the past month, during Piedmont friends have returned to their home in the south.

Gar. Calden, 4127 Gilbert street, has returned from a three weeks' stay in Yosemite.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Fulcher, who have been staying at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hart, Fulcher, are making preparations to leave for the East, where they intend to make their home, in Chicago.

Mrs. J. H. Cobble, who was recently injured in a runaway, is reported to be gradually improving.

Dr. and Mrs. Carl Schmidt have returned to Piedmont after a twelve days' outing at Yosemite.

Marvelous Discoveries mark the wonderful progress of the age. Air flights on heavy machines, telegrams without wires, terrible war inventions to kill men, and that wonder of wonders—Dr. King's New Discovery—to save life when threatened by coughs, colds, laryngitis, asthma, croup, bronchitis, hemorrhages, hay fever and whooping cough or lung trouble. For all bronchial affections it has no equal. It relieves instantly. It's the surest cure. James M. Black of Asheville, N. C. R. R. writes: "I cured him of an obstinate cough after all other remedies failed. 50c and $1.00. A trial bottle free. Guaranteed by Good Food Co."

A regular morning operation of the home puts you in fine shape for the day's work. If you miss it you feel uncomfortable and cannot put vim into your movements. For all bowel irregularities, HEBER'S is the remedy. It purifies, strengthens and regulates. Price 50c. Sold by Wishart's Drug Store.

$150,000 BATONYI SUIT SETTLED

Amount of Compromise Kept Close Secret; Trouble at End.

NEWPORT, R. I., June 25.—After acting as his own attorney in the Supreme Court here, Aurel Batonyi settled the suit yesterday for $150,000 damages brought by him against his former wife, Mrs. Francis Burke-Roché, her father, Frank Work, and Frank K. Turgis, an attorney.

Roosevelt Is Trustee Of Tuskegee Institute

NEW YORK, June 25.—The trustees of the Tuskegee Normal and Industrial Institute in Alabama has added the name of Theodore Roosevelt as a member of the trustees. The election, held in the office of the general election board here this week, was announced today.

The Conservation of Nature's Resources Applies as well to our physical state as to material things. C. L. Budlong, Washington, D. C., realized his condition, and took warning before it was too late. He says: "I suffered severely from kidney trouble, the disease being hereditary in our family. I have taken our bottles of Foley's Kidney Remedy, and now consider myself thoroughly cured. This should be a warning to all who neglect taking Foley's Kidney Remedy until it is too late."—Wishart's Drug Store.

MAN IS BURNED AS GAS EXPLODES

Manufacturer Tries to Put Out Flames in Shop and Is Badly Hurt.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 25.—In an explosion of gas and ammonia fumes in his shop at 1173 Ellis street, at 7 o'clock this morning, Carl Olson was frightfully burned and may suffer the loss of his right hand.

For twenty years Olson has been a manufacturer of polish and has never had an accident.

This morning in some manner the gas came in contact with the ammonia and when he lit a match the shop was immediately a mass of flames.

In saving the building and putting out the fire he burned both hands, the right one being badly scorched.

He was treated at the Central Emergency Hospital.

LOS ANGELES AND S. J. VALLEY RATES

Jobbers of the Southern City Are Promised Lower Carload Freight to Bakersfield.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 25.—According to the testimony given yesterday by the general freight agent of the Southern Pacific company before the state railroad commission in the suit brought by Los Angeles jobbers for a reduction of freight rates into San Joaquin Valley, the witnesses stated that the company would not doubt give them lower rates on carload shipments from Los Angeles to Bakersfield if the jobbers would ask it to do so.

Mr. Luce testified that in 1901 the company reduced less than carload rates from Los Angeles to Bakersfield at the request of the former city's jobbers. They complained the rates were too high and the Southern Pacific traffic officials, after listening to their complaint, made a reduction. The reduced rates are still in existence and have aided Los Angeles in getting business in the Bakersfield-Delano section of the San Joaquin country.

NO COMPLAINT. When asked why the company officials did not reduce carload rates for the Los Angeles jobbers at the same time it lowered the less than carload rates, Mr. Luce replied: "Because they did not complain of them and ask for their reduction. They were not mentioned at all by the Los Angeles people who came to see us with their complaints about the less than carload rates being too high."

In answer to questions by Attorney Duran of the Southern Pacific, the traffic expert showed how the standard disadvantages of the Tehachapi mountains and the Mojave desert seriously operated against Los Angeles for the command of valley trade.

"The Reno rate case, now pending before the Interstate Commerce Commission," continued Luce, "the Southern Pacific has shown that because of the mountainous character of the country between Sacramento and Reno it is operated at 154 miles of very expensive road. This mileage is as expensive as three or four times the same number of miles of level road. Such a condition is an influence in making rates. Now with the 103 miles of Southern Pacific road between Los Angeles and Bakersfield, the same thing to a great extent is true. In spite of the fact Los Angeles is now getting a first-class rate of 71 cents per 100 pounds to Bakersfield as against class 1 rate of 83 cents from San Francisco, or a difference of 12 cents. This has to be absorbed by the San Francisco merchant to place him on an equality in that town with the Los Angeles jobber."

The case went over until Monday.

Suicides on Steps Of Sweetheart's Home

PHOENIX, Ariz., June 25.—When Dr. O. J. Mahoney went to his front door early today he found a dead man on the porch. Will H. Andrews, aged 37, an employee of the surveyor general's office, late of Morphew, Ill., had thrust the muzzle of a revolver to his mouth and pulled the trigger. The report of the shot was so muffled that it did not arouse persons in the house.

Andrews' suicidal mania resulted from the rejection of his proposal of marriage to a ward of Dr. Mahoney. He selected the woman as the scene of his taking off because the young lady slept on a balcony just overhead.

---Kryptoks add expression to the eyes

"How much better you look in your new glasses," we heard a lady say to a friend who had just been fitted to a pair of Kryptoks in our store.

It is a fact that some people look better with glasses than without them, and that all people can be fitted to glasses that at least do not detract from their personal charms.

"There is a certain style for every individual and the optician who knows his business sees to it that the most becoming, most comfortable and most secure style is suggested."

Kryptoks look no different from ordinary lenses.

"They can be set in frames that actually add to the expression of the eyes."
